OIL SCANDAL AGAIN HITS CABINET

HEARING ON LIGHT CODE IS PLANNED

Commission Wants to Hear from all Persons Affected

INSPECTOR IS AUTHORIZED

Fire Hazards to be Eliminated by Electrical Ordinance

Public hearing on City Manager C. A. Bingham's electrical installation code will be held in commission chambers next Monday night.

Recommendation by the city manager to this effect met with favorable response at commission meeting Monday night and action on the measure directly affected by the proposed enforcement of the law.

Copies of the ordinance were given to commissioners who favored postponement of action, preferring to digest the contents which follow the National Fire Underwriters Code and conform with state fire regulations.

Appointment of an electrical inspector at a salary of $2,000 a year to supervise installations, operation and maintenance, make inspection and enforce the ordinance is provided for in the measure.

POWER GIVEN

He is empowered to issue permits, revoke licenses, condemn wiring, order installation changes and collect inspection fees which will total sufficient to pay his salary and make the ordinance enforcement self supporting.

City Manager C. A. Bingham is to present to Building to hear complaints carried up by contractors or building owners. The board of three men, one an architect, will be subject to removal without notice by the city manager.

The building inspector will pass on all electrical installations in public buildings and homes after the work is completed and if it does not comply with the demands he is empowered to condemn it and order contractors to comply with state fire requirements and the National Underwriters Code, upon which the city ordinance is based.

Fee of not less than $1.00 is to be charged with issuance of each permit and violators are subjected to maximum fines of from $10 to $100 for each offense.

HAZARDS BANNED

Enforcement of the ordinance, according to City Manager C. A. Bingham, promises elimination of fire hazards in Lima and establishes a uniform code of electrical installation, declaring the passage of exposed wires, wires hung over nails and other hazards which caused 700 fires the damage here from the early causes in five years.

Under the ordinance permits must be obtained for all electrical wiring and inspection fees paid for inspection of electrical stove, electric ranges, picture machines, installation of radio sets, mercury arc lights, incandescent lamps, etc.

Fees and fees collected under the ordinance are to be submitted to the city treasurer and kept in a fund to be known as the "Electric Inspection Fund."

BISHOP IS DEAD

Episcopal Church Official Dies at Age of 91

DALLAS, Tex. — (United Press) — Bishop Alexander Garrett, of the Episcopal Diocese of Dallas and president of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America, died suddenly at his home here Monday night. He was 91 last November, was apparently in good health until a slight attack in the chest. During the day, however, this was relieved and disappeared with no anxiety for the body.

Mary's College, which Bishop Garrett founded, until Friday. Burial will be in Dallas.

AKRON COUNCIL EXPECTED TO RATIFY BUS FRANCHISE

AKRON—The city council, meeting today, is expected to ratify permanent motorization of the city at a five-cent fare and a one-cent transfer charge.

An Akron bus company is expected to receive the franchise. If confirmed, the bus company will be required to furnish $10,000 bond amount of the fee has not been made known.

13 Lives Snuffed Out In Fire

EIGHT FAMILIES ARE TRAPPED BY FLAMES

Seven Children Among Victims of New York Disaster

MOTHER, BABY DIE TOGETHER

Thrilling Escapes Are Made by Aged Persons

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Thirteen lives were snuffed out in a few minutes in a fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, which early today swept from basement to roof of a five story tenement in the heart of New York's Lower East Side Ghetto.

Seven of those killed were children.

The blaze, unequalled in rapidity in the annals of the fire department, flared up the staircase, fanned by a draft from the tenement's open front door, blocking escape of the eight families who occupied the building.

Some of those in the two upper stories, awakening to find the flames at their bedside, met death before they could even try to dash thru the roaring furnace with which they were confronted.

Terrified upon opening their hall doors to find a vortex of flame mushrooming from the roof down thru the smoke-choked corridor, families on lower floors retreated in panic to the windows from which they managed in some cases by seemingly impossible means to reach safety. Several were severely burned, others were injured in falls.

Of the dead, five were boys and two girls, four women and two men. One of the children was an infant, whose charred body was found at the breast of its dead mother.

FOUR ARRESTED

The fire was discovered by a passing policeman who saw smoke and flames rising against the inner side of a window. He rushed into the house and up the stair cases, hammering his fists on doors and shouting a warning. Flames stopped him before he reached the upper stories.

The front door had been open as he entered and as he dashed out, he saw Louis Choenfield, a news vendor, running from the entrance with three men at his heels. He took all four to a police station where Choenfield, who appeared to police to be mentally deranged, babbled in answer to all questions:

"I haven't got any matches; you can search me."

Later Dr. Charles S. Rubenstein of Gouverneur hospital, recognized him as a man he had treated several times for epileptic seizures and who, he added, had come to him for treatment late last night about an hour before the fire was discovered. He said several days ago he had taken two stitches in a cut on Choenfield's head and that last night he had removed the stitches.

A bottle partly filled with a white powder was found in the man's pockets.

CLIMB TO WINDOW SILLS

Members of families in the second and third floors of the building climbed to window sills as the flames licked their way thru hallway doorways. Fire escapes at the back of the building were cut off by a line of flame. Those on the third floor of the Lifschitz and Faber families, including Mrs. Lotta Lifschitz, 90, jumped to the roof of a lower adjoining building. Mrs. Lifschitz was assisted thru a skylight on the adjoining

Intruder Dives Thru Window as Pals Give Warning

Looting of a home in the fashionable west end residence section of the city was nipped Monday night by the timely return of the butler.

William "Happy" Cooper, butler at the home of J. B. Bernhard, 939 W. Market-st., was returning to the house about 1 a. m. Tuesday. As he was unlocking the side door to the house he heard a low whistle and saw two men standing on the street corner.

INTRUDER SEEN

He thought they were acting suspiciously but immediately dismissed them from his mind and entered the house. As he turned on the light, however, he heard a noise and, looking into the dining room, saw a man running toward the open window.

Cooper picked up a chair and hurled it at the thief, striking him on the leg but not halting his flight. The burglar dove thru the window and joined his companions who aided him in his escape.

Cooper immediately wakened Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard, who had not heard the intruder, and police were called. Sergeant McCoy and Patrolman Edwards searched the neighborhood but the men had made good their escape.

Cooper immediately wakened Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard, who had not heard the intruder, and police were called. Sergeant McCoy and Patrolman Edwards searched the neighborhood but the men had made good their escape.

Search of the house indicated that nothing of value had been taken. It is believed that Cooper returned just a few minutes after the burglar had effected an entrance.

The only thing commission has to do with the hospital is to distribute funds and we are a little behind in that respect," was Commissioner Cunningham's defense.

BITTER FEELING

"An embittered feeling exists because of the attack and I believe in friendly relations with the board of trustees of City Hospital," Commissioner Ellis Jones exclaimed. "I was ignorant of the probe and the first I knew of it was when the report was published in newspapers."

"What I want is the new hospital in the east end," Commissioner J. J. Rankin said. "I am not worried about the old one."

Assurance that the hospital trustees will not bring civil action against the city for $6,700 due for annual payments, was given to commissioners Monday night by Commissioner J. J. Rankin.

After delay of one year on a petition signed by more than 1,500 property owners for better car service by completion of the requested improvement, Manager C. A. Bingham is to confer with street car officials. Commissioners Monday night gave him authority to proceed.

Original plans filed one year ago by the traction company met with disapproval as plans provided for installation of the switch on a narrow section of the street near South High school, inviting traffic congestion, according to Manager Bingham, and endangering school children.

Proposals by the city for placing a 10-foot wide switch at a different location met with protest by the traction company and the petition was ignored.

Commissioners recommend placing the switch at St. Johns-av. and Pine-st., where sufficient space is available, they say, to lay the switch without interfering with motor traffic.

Deaths from alcoholism in Philadelphia dropped 35 per cent, in the first six weeks of 1924, in comparison with a similar period last year. Frank Paul, chief investigator of the coroner's office said today Mr. Paul attributed the reduction to Directors of Public Safety Bureau's campaign against law breakers.

Reports showed 150 deaths due to alcoholism during the first six weeks of 1923. Mr. Paul said. This year but 27 have been reported and 11 of these were due to accidents resulting from intoxication.

MOYER STANDS BY CITY HOSPITAL ATTACK

City Commissioners Deny They Backed Recent Inquiry

RICKOFF CHARGE ANSWERED

Mayor's Placing of Responsibility Meets Disclaimer

Responsibility for the attack on conditions at City hospital was shoved onto the board of health by Mayor Earl Moyer Monday night after commissioners professed ignorance of the probe.

"The board of health instigated the probe," Mayor Moyer said in reiterating his announcement that the structure is reeling on its foundation and tends to become a menace to safety instead of an institution of public good.

REPLY TO RICKOFF

Exception to charges made by J. R. Rickoff, chairman of the board of hospital trustees, involving commissioners as sponsors of the attack of "bad conditions" was fathered by Commissioner Earl Rohn and adopted by other members of the commission who professed ignorance of the probe.

"I had no knowledge of the investigation and I wish to correct the impression that city commission instigated the attack," Commissioner Rohn said.

"The board of health was responsible," Mayor Moyer replied to Commissioner Rohn. "Commissioner is not to blame."

"The only thing commission has to do with the hospital is to distribute funds and we are a little behind in that respect," was Commissioner Cunningham's defense.

WHITNEY MISSING

The following statement was made by Chairman Lenroot:

"Officials of Benkard & Co. appeared before the committee and produced books and records which were requested. They expressed entire willingness to have the committee or its accountants go over all of their records.

Some of these records are so voluminous that it would be necessary for accountants of the committee to go to New York to examine them."

Henry Payne Whitney, New York financier, and has been subpoenaed and was expected to appear today but the committee received no word from him and efforts to locate him in Washington proved unavailing.

Elmer E. Smathers of New York, subpoenaed along with Mr. Whitney and members of the Benkard firm, is now in Europe, the committee was advised.

Before conferring with the brokers the committee called in Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel in the oil cases for a general discussion of developments during the week-end, including matters which formed the subject of conference between Senators Walsh and Wheeler, Democrats, Montana and Chairman Lenroot and Mr. Pomerene.

IMMUNITY SOUGHT

Committee said that it was decided to have the closest possible co-operation with the government counsel and to leave to them the questions of law from time to time necessarily to come before the committee.

One of the subjects discussed and finally referred to counsel was a request from one witness who is under subpoena for assurances whether he would be given immunity if he appeared and made full statement. The committee has told that this witness has much valuable information bearing on several phases of the investigation. Senator Wheeler who has presented some new matters to members of the committee for investigation was present at the session today by invitation. Immediately after the committee adjourned subject to call of the chair, he went to the senate chamber to press his resolution calling for an investigation of the administration of the attorney-general and the department of justice.

While there is no belief now among members of the committee that further sessions will be necessary before the reopening of the public hearings next Monday, some of them said there might be developments which would make an earlier meeting desirable.

Failure to Put in Switch Cited by Car Line Residents

Charges of inadequate car service in S. Pine-st thru neglect of the Lima Street Railway Co. to install a switch as requested by property owners residing south of the Erie railroad tracks were filed in commission Monday night by Commissioner J. J. Rankin.

CRIMINAL ACTION UNLIKELY

Oil Counsel May Confin Efforts to Equity Suits

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Lack of witnesses essential to a criminal prosecution threatened today to prevent such prosecution in connection with the oil leasing scandal.

Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, President Coolidge's special counsel, told the Senate Teapot Dome committee there was no one witness who could be depended on to prove violation of criminal laws against anybody involved in the leasing scandal.

Committee members said they agreed with the counsel.

The counsel probably will continue their efforts in a suit in equity, designed to cancel the leases and restore the reserves to the government.

Coolidge Hints for Resignation of Cabinet Officer

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

Developments in Case Are Expected Soon

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—In the face of a demand that he resign and that was regarded here as a broad hint from President Coolidge to the same effect, Attorney General Daugherty today was clinging to his post in the cabinet.

A three-hour conference last night, a cabinet discussion today, and a brief conference with President Coolidge, resulted in Daugherty deciding not to quit until he had been given a hearing and a chance to reply to his critics.

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—The demand for the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty suddenly has become one of the most acute of all the questions growing out of the oil scandal and there were indications today that some important development could be expected shortly.

Protests against Daugherty's continuance in office have come to the White House from several new sources, and were before President Coolidge when the cabinet met for its Tuesday session. In some quarters it was believed that a conference would be made when the meeting was over.

ADVICE IS SOUGHT

Within the past two days Mr. Coolidge has advised with many senators and others regarding the future conduct of the department of justice and Daugherty himself has received advice from several of those who are prominent in the conduct of the affairs of his party.

Last night he had a long conference with a group of Republican senate leaders. All of those in closest touch with the latest turn in the situation steadfastly refused to talk about it or reveal just what new information had entered into the campaign to drive Daugherty out of the cabinet. It was entirely apparent, however, that in its newest phases the attack was direct outgrowth of the oil investigation.

Those opposing his continuance as a member of the president's official family have redoubled their efforts since new information in the oil imbroglio was brought to Washington Sunday and on the basis of what they now know they seemed perfectly confident today that the attorney general would resign almost immediately.

Just before the cabinet meeting Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel in the government cases, conferred with President Coolidge. There was every indication that what they told the president would be passed on by him to the meeting of his official advisers. Reports that the special counsel asked the president to request Daugherty to retire, could not be confirmed. Both Pomerene and Roberts refused to talk.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Pomerene had been acquainted Sunday with the new and startling developments in the oil cases which have stirred the capital, he and Chairman Lettrot of the oil committee communicated to the president late Sunday night. The visit of the two members of counsel followed a conference last night immediately upon Robert's arrival in Washington.

The senators who called on Daugherty last night included Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania, Moses of New Hampshire, and other administration leaders. They talked over among other things, the resolution of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, proposing an investigation of the attorney general and of the department of justice. The attorney general is said to have insisted he should not quit under fire.

The conference therefore reached no definite conclusion.

Some changes are desired by the Republican leaders in the wording of the Wheeler resolution but as Daugherty himself has asked for an investigation of his official acts, leaders for all groups believe the resolution will be adopted. Provision probably will be made for the appointment of a committee of seven to conduct the inquiry.

Attorney General Daugherty was among the last to arrive at the White House for the cabinet meeting. Asked if he would have a statement after the meeting he replied:

"All I can say is that it's a bad day outside."

DRASTIC SCENE AT WHITE HOUSE

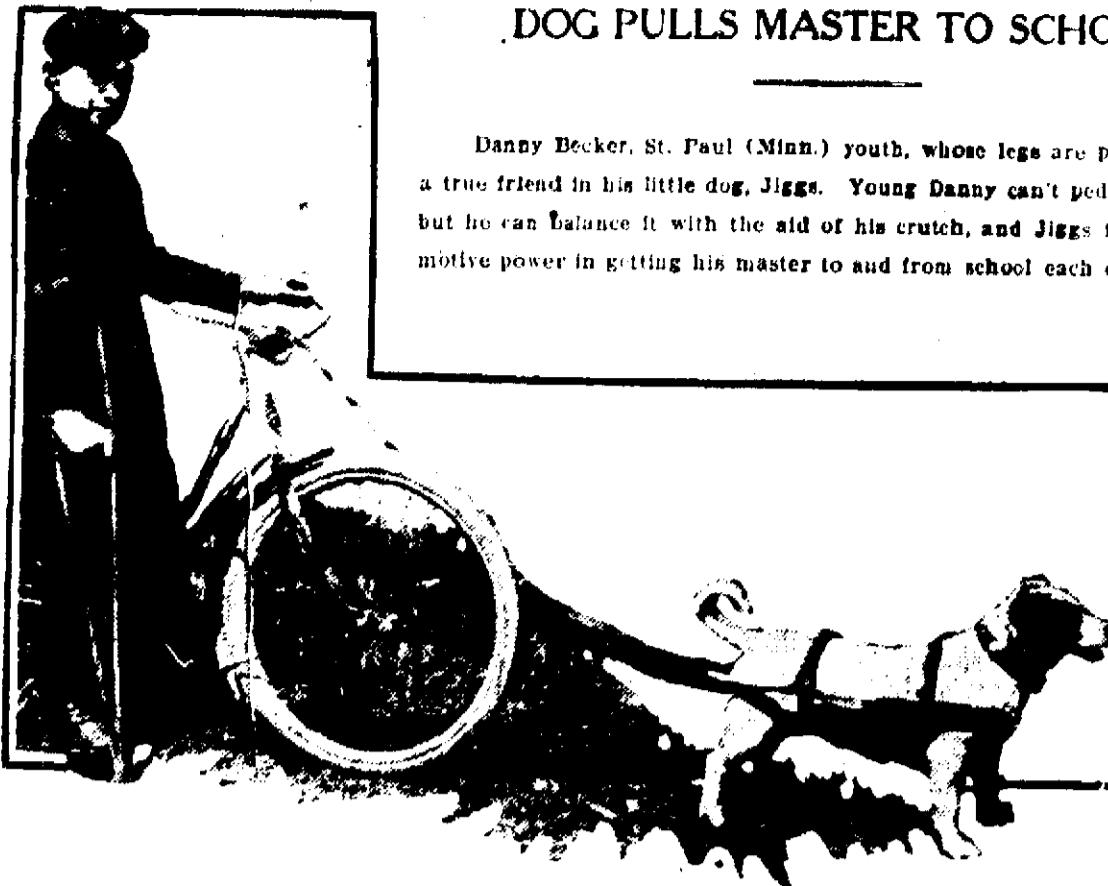

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—The dramatic scene at the White House Sunday night, when Senator Borah, in the presence of President Coolidge, demanded that Attorney General Daugherty resign, was staged by Mr. Coolidge himself.

On Thursday or Friday last week Senator Borah saw C. Ransom Stimpson, Mr. Coolidge's secretary. To Stimpson, Borah expressed the view that Daugherty ought to resign because he had lost the confidence of the country and that this loss of confidence had seriously affected the standing of the department of justice. Stimpson told Mr. Coolidge, On Sunday night the president telephoned Senator Borah to come to the White House. He received Borah in his study and told him that he desired him to state frankly his views about Daugherty. This Borah did. Fifteen minutes later Daugherty arrived and joined the conference.

"Now, Senator, I wish you would state your position again," the president suggested.

ADVISES RESIGNATION

Borah thereupon told Daugherty he

DRAMA CROP POOR IN GERMANY

Berlin Critic Sees Dearth of Worth While Productions

WORK OF ACTORS PRAISED

Players Put Artistic Triumph Above High Salaries

BERLIN — (Associated Press)

—Acting, stage management and production have improved greatly in Germany since the war, in the opinion of most German dramatic critics, but the quality of the new plays written in Germany since the Armistice has not kept pace with the other branches of theatrical activity.

No single drama has been written in Germany since the war which Paul Fechner, of the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, regards as a true expression of the times. He has high praise for young actors who recently developed in Germany, particularly Eugene Kloepfer, Werner Krause, Agnes Straub and Elizabeth Bognner, but says they are all compelled to fall back on old standard plays and to move from theatre to theatre in order to find opportunity to display their varied talents.

He has high praise for young actors who recently developed in Germany, particularly Eugene Kloepfer, Werner Krause, Agnes Straub and Elizabeth Bognner, but says they are all compelled to fall back on old standard plays and to move from theatre to theatre in order to find opportunity to display their varied talents.

Fechner says the German public is disgusted with the new expressionistic style of modern dramas and is turning back to nature and life. The return of the young dramatist, Bert Brecht, Arnold Brounen and Alfred Brust, to the natural presentation of the lives of men and women is a hopeful sign, in Fechner's opinion, although he confesses the work of these dramatists is rather crude.

He thinks the German novelists, such as Jacob Wassermann and Thomas Mann, and the poets, Stefan George, Franz Werfel and Carl Sternheim, give a far more truthful picture of the spiritual life of Germany than today do the dramatists.

Leopold Jessner, director of the state play house in Berlin, is of the opinion the German theatre will do well to battle against the American star system, and devote itself to ensemble work. He says many German actors prefer artistic standing to great salaries, and in this spirit, he believes, the German theatre will find a great asset for its development.

MUCH IDLENESS

The lack of Berlin audiences of foreigners from countries where the exchange is good was a hard blow to the German theatre in 1923, as well as to the cinemas. Unemployment has been great in the theatrical circles. Actors and actresses have taken up side professions, and not a few have been compelled to avail themselves of meals offered in various centers to professional people in reduced circumstances.

Many actors have deserted the legitimate stage and gone into vaudeville and cabaret work, which is far more remunerative than the legitimate stage.

Some of them have been permitted to accept engagements in the moving pictures, but the producing end of the moving picture industry has recently taken a terrible slump in Germany. "IRON MAN" FOR NAVY URGED

Big Stick Wielder as Denby Successor Wanted by Insiders

NAMES ARE BROUGHT OUT

Pointdexter Heads List of Those Mentioned

(By WILLIAM J. LOSH.)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—If President Coolidge takes the advice of "insiders" in the navy department, he will appoint an "iron man" to succeed Edwin Denby as secretary of the navy.

A man who will brutally wield a big stick inside the department and take effective measures to check a waning moral in the crying need of the navy today, these well informed persons declared.

An enormous number of deserters, steady resignation of officers and an unprecedented run of disasters—at La Concha, Calif., where seven destroyers were lost, at Vera Cruz, where the Tacoma was wrecked and minor accidents elsewhere—saw the fruits of conditions within the navy that require harsh measures for a cure, these men say.

Details on today of a successor to Denby brought out several names.

President Coolidge has blasted the boys of some with an unofficial announcement from the White House that no naval officer will be named and nobody from Michigan, Denby's state.

This apparently eliminated Charles E. Warren, of Detroit, who was at first believed to have the "inside track" for the position. Warren is now mentioned for attorney General Daughtry's job, should Denby quit.

Miss Pointdexter, United States ambassador to Peru, was much talked of today as Denby's successor. He was formerly acting chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee. Pointdexter's name was brought in when a high naval official said Denby would be succeeded by "a far wiser man with liberal tendencies". Pointdexter formerly was regarded as liberal.

Governor Dixon, Montana, also has been spoken of as filling the vacancies for a two-fisted iron man. "Hell and Maria" Dawes, former budget man and now a member of the expert commission studying German reparations, is another suggestion.

Secretary of the Interior Work's name was brought in by a report to the effect that Work would take the navy and Secretary of Commerce Hoover would replace Work in the interior portfolio.

Former Governor Henry Allen of Kansas; Brigadier General Smedley Butler, now safety director of Philadelphia, and others less well-known are being discussed in gossip today.

Denby quits March 10. His successor will have about a year of Denby's term to serve.

SHALE OIL ON ROCKS

GLASGOW—The Scottish shale oil industry, employing 10,000 men, it is feared, will have to close down in a few months because it no longer is profitable. The situation is attributed to the large quantities of shale oil being obtained elsewhere.

ACTION POSTPONED ON DUMPING GROUND PLAN

Demand for a safety clause relieving the city of any responsibility for dumping violations postponed final action by the city commissioners Monday night on the Thomas T. Taylor, Calumet and E. High-st municipal ground proposal until next Monday night.

Taylor proposes rental of the lot at a cost of $650 a year for two years for a municipal dumping ground.

Commissioners in expressing favor of the project saw a loophole for civil suit against the city and upon motion of Commissioner Earl Rohr the ordinance was tabled for injection of an amendment relieving the city of any responsibility.

Paving of Dewey-av from Bellfontaine-av to the street terminus was authorized and in Main-st paving legislation an amendment was made authorizing the city to secure bids on granite block and asphalt paving along with other types mentioned in the original legislation.

CHARGED WITH PROMOTING WEATHER GAMBLING GAME

CLEVELAND—Two men are under arrest here on charges of promoting a scheme of chance after complaint had been filed against them by a Clevelander that they had operated a state-wide pool on the weather and had swindled him of $400 "winnings." The men gave their names as Hiram Pfifer, 31, and Harry Freeman, 24.

The complaint charged that he had guessed the weather correctly and was entitled to the high prize of $400. He charges that after making an appointment with the two men to collect his winnings, they wanted him to settle for $50.

When they refused to pay, a patrolman was called and all three were taken to central police station.

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting and operations fail?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID now sold by Hunter's Drug Stores and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by free-ing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.

DENBY QUILTS UNDER FIRE

SECRETARY DENBY has quit under fire. His departure from the cabinet of President Coolidge, which he took over intact from the regime of the late President Harding, marks the first break in the official family as the result of the oil lease scandal, now under investigation.

Denby had announced that he would not quit under fire. He justified the oil leases for the Teapot Dome and California reserves and declared that he would do the same thing over again under the same circumstances.

This attitude was most embarrassing to the president, who has had a difficult task to perform. He could not well keep a man in his cabinet who was opposed to the campaign for the annulment of the leases. It was a foregone conclusion that Denby would either resign or be kicked out of the cabinet. It would not have been good politics to keep him there.

And in this connection, it must be said that it is nothing short of a disgrace when so vital a matter as the investigation of the oil leases should be placed on a partisan basis. It would appear that there has been a well defined program along this line since the scandal broke. An effort has been made to obtain a team of lawyers, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, to prosecute the cases at the expense of the taxpayers while the attorney general's office has an army of lawyers attached to it.

We have never been able to see the necessity of a lawyer from each political party to conduct the prosecution. The president hasn't said whether he will have the Democrat prosecute the Democrats and the Republican, the Republicans or whether he will turn it around or whether he will jumble up the mess and allow the lawyers to play the political game.

The country isn't interested in whether a Republican is guilty, if any is, or whether it is a Democrat if someone is at fault. The scandal has outgrown a petty political controversy and should be divorced from politics and the whole matter cleared up and not whitewashed.

Denby has gone. Others will follow. As many changes will be made as the politicians deem necessary to bolster up a damaged political machine. But the public should go deeper than the political side and demand as fair an investigation as it is possible. And the public should have the truth and the guilty punished if a wrong has been done. And there is a lot of smoke.

NEWCOMERS AND NEW IDEAS

ABIG soap company tucks up a notice that it won't hire any salesmen who haven't been at least six years on their last job. If all employers did this, salesmanship would become a "closed profession"—no opportunity for a new man to start.

Such reasoning recalls the city council of London, England, which years ago passed an ordinance requiring all cab stands always to have at least one hack ready for hire. Result: A fare would rush up to the lone hackman, who couldn't leave without breaking the law.

EVERY large business organization needs a steady flow of "new blood." New salesmen, especially young inexperienced men eager to learn the game and willing to work hard to that end, inject new life into the organization—like a blood transfusion.

Ancient alchemists searched centuries in their laboratories for a universal solvent—a fluid that would dissolve every known substance. Finally a young lad, a newcomer in chemistry, watched the experiments and asked blandly: "If you get it, what will you keep it in?" That ended the search.

So with organizations, professions and trades. Old-timers experienced, know the job so thoroly that they get in a rut.

OFTEN a group of men becomes deadlocked trying to figure out how to do a certain thing. A passerby pauses, hears their talk and, with a fresh and unfatigued viewpoint, suggests the solution.

Accordingly, the soap company is making a mistake in hiring only salesmen six years or more on their former jobs. The company can draw on outside organizations for its new blood. But that blood will be middle-aged instead of youthful. And, too, every organization has certain duties to its profession or field.

An important one of these duties is training youngsters to seize the torch of progress as it falls from weakened hands of the old-timers.

'FEW LIES NAILED BY LANDIS'

Former Judge Assails Opponents of Adjusted Compensation

MISBRANDED BONUS, HE SAYS

Not Gift But Just Debt to Soldiers, Speaker Asserts

CLEVELAND—(United Press)—So long as I have the strength, I'll fight for the rights of the ex-soldiers in getting their adjusted compensation, said now as a criminal conspirator to aid the United States treasury.

Former Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, his white towled suit radiant under the stage lights, and radiant finger holding its customized pipe, faced the crowd of ex-service men and Cleveland men and women in Public Hall last night and opened fire on opponents of the adjusted compensation bill now before Congress.

"I came here tonight to nail a few of them," Landis said. "Adjusted compensation is being called a bonus, it is not due, not earned."

This is not a bonus. It is America's due to the 4,800,000 who had a $100 a month, while the soldiers of Cleveland were getting $75 a month.

WAR FORGOTTEN: Many memory is short. The average man and woman today has forgotten the war and now an organized crusade is being carried on against compensation."

We held this meeting here to bring us the United States of America, of an imperial German army because of this army," he added.

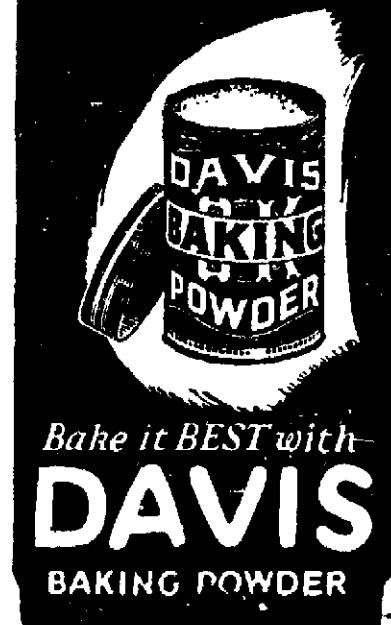

He said that the Mellon plan as a systematic method of exacting taxes on large fortunes could not give relief to small investors.

But his greatest denunciation was reserved against the postscript which said Mellon had added that "you can't buy his induction if you pass me $100."

"That is the most colossal bribe ever offered a great people," he charged.

DUTCH QUEEN GIVES AID TO MANY POOR CHILDREN

SCHWARTZBURG, Thuringia—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and her consort, Duke Henry of Mecklenburg, are caring for many needy children in the Schwartzburg district. They have been instrumental in having many poor Thuringian children sent to Holland for summer vacations with well-to-do Dutch families which could provide them with food and other foodstuffs which were lacking in Germany.

Duke Henry recently visited the Prince of Schwartzburg at his castle in this little health resort, where Queen Wilhelmina passed much of her childhood. The little Dutch princess, before she became of age, regarded Schwartzburg as her second home. Her mother, Princess Emma of Waldeck-Pyrmont, left the child there in the mountains while she ruled Holland as regent.

PUMPER BOUGHT AFTER FIGHT

Old Commissioners Unanimous for Lowest Bidder

In the face of opposition by Mayor Earl Moyer and Commissioner J. Rankin, the old commission guard—Commissioner Harold Cunningham, Ellis Jones and Earl Rohn—Monday night authorized City Manager Blumham to purchase a Stutz motor pump at a cost of $13,821.

Mayor Moyer and Commissioner Rankin centered their fight on the Stutz apparatus because it is an assembled job—parts being purchased and not made by the factory.

They claimed possible difficulty in getting any subsidiaries of the company should go out of business.

Commissioner Rankin presented telegrams from fire chiefs in various cities who recommended other apparatus in preference to the Stutz.

City Manager C. A. Bingham offset Rankin's move with telegrams from fire chiefs who expressed satisfaction with the apparatus.

Upon a vote authorizing the collector to prepare necessary legislation for purchase of a Stutz $1,000 gallons-a-minute pumper, Mayor Rankin voted a great people," he charged.

Upon a vote authorizing the collector to prepare necessary legislation for purchase of a Stutz $1,000 gallons-a-minute pumper, Mayor

Moyer and Commissioner Rankin cast negative votes and affirmative votes were balloted by the other three commissioners.

The State bid of $13,821 was lowest of four by $64. Other bids were: American-LaFrance, $14,475; Ahrens-Fox $14,892; Seagrave, $15,000.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrup, and never about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Piney, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Piney and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, eases the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Piney is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Piney, with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Piney Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

RAILROADER IS RELIEVED

Would be in Misery Every Time He Ate Before He Took the Plant Juice

SUFFERING IS NOW GONE

"I had such stomach trouble that many kinds of foods would simply put me in misery but since I have taken your Plant Juice this suffering has disappeared and I enjoy my meals," said Mr. Morley C. Macklem, of 155 North Day street, Orange, N. J., railway freight conductor for the Jersey Central Railway Co., while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently.

MR. MORLEY C. MACKLEM

"I used to be one of those fellows who think they have stomachs that will last forever but I found out that railroading is hard on the stomach. Anyway, the irregular eating and sleeping surely had an effect on me. I lost my appetite; got so I couldn't eat breakfast and had to be very careful about what I ate or I would be in misery. I had dizzy spells; liver was sluggish and inactive and I was badly constipated and felt completely tired so that when I got home after work, I never wanted to go out with my wife. I was getting worse all the time and then one day I weighed myself and found I had lost 12 pounds. That gave me a scare."

"I heard so many of the railroad men talking about Plant Juice that I decided to try it and the truth is that five bottles of Plant Juice have put 12 pounds of new flesh on my body. My bowels are regular, appetite has returned and I eat heartily. And the indigestion and misery I used to have has left me so that I enjoy my meals. My wife is simply tickled to death to see the change in me and the way I eat. My liver and kidneys work fine now; dizzy spells and tired feeling are gone and I do not have to drive myself to work as I used to and when I get home at night, I am ready for the movies."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

"GIRL PONZI" IS IMPRISONED

Charged With Defrauding Socially Prominent New Yorkers

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)

Described by police as "a girl with the financial wizardry of a Paoli or a Lindsay," Miss Helen L. Beckett, a stockbroker, was imprisoned today on complaint of socially prominent patrons of a Fifth-av corset shop that she had defrauded them of $50,000.

She was charged with forgery.

Detectives reported that Miss Beckett, after establishing a partnership with Robert Law and opening offices in the downtown financial district, haunted the corset shop, inspiring its wealthy patrons with faith in her as a financier and induced them to invest in a "mythical pool" which she claimed had inside information about the shares of New York's bigest coal corporation.

One of her first victims was alleged to have been her business partner's father. Others were said to have included a society woman at Atlantic City, whose attorneys report she lost $25,000; a prominent woman doctor whose losses were put at $15,000, and a man, identity undisclosed, who invested $5000.

The girl, according to police, started as "customers' man" for a Wall street stock brokerage firm that failed in 1922. She then became an outer office habitue of a Wall street stock brokerage firm where police report she met Law and induced him to form a partnership with her.

The forgery charge is based upon complaint of Law's father that he turned out to her to be sold shares of Standard Oil, Endicott-Johnson, New York Central and American Telephone and Telegraph stock, representing his life savings; that she sold them, and receiving a check drawn to Law's father, forged his name to it and pocketed the cash.

Under similar circumstances it is alleged, Miss Beckett sold sugar stocks for Arthur Keinstein, an official of the West Indian Sugar Finance Corporation and forged his name to the check.

MRS. FRANK CRIST DIES AT INDIANAPOLIS HOME

Mrs. Frank Crist, former Lima resident, died Monday at 10:30 a.m. at her home in Indianapolis, following a stroke of paralysis she suffered January 18.

Mrs. Crist was born and reared in Lima and before her marriage was Mrs. Mitchell. In addition to her husband she survives by two sons, Fred and Mitchell, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Banta and Mrs. John Davis both on Los Angeles. She is survived by four cousins, Mrs. H. F. Simcock, Mrs. Levina Shuler, Miss Tunk and all of this city and Charles Tunk of Wapakoneta.

The body will be accompanied to Lima Thursday following funeral services at the residence, arriving here at noon. Short services will be held at the grave in Woodlawn Cemetery at 2 p.m. in charge of Rev. Arthur Smith, pastor of Christ Church Episcopalian.

DAUGHTER OF MRS. HARPER ARRIVES FROM OKLAHOMA

Mrs. Foy Griffin Miller and her daughter, Betty Mae and Maurice, of Tulsa, Okla., are now in Lima to be near the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Mae Griffin Harper, who was shot and injured by William Pence a week ago. They are staying at 21 E. North-st.

Mrs. Harper's wounds are healing and the bullet have not yet been removed. Physicians feel positive that all danger of infection has passed. She will not leave the hospital for some time yet, however. Orla Harper, her husband, has obtained a job here and plans to return to Lima. He was released from the state penitentiary when circumstantial evidence showed that Pence who committed suicide had "framed" him.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. L. DANER ARE HELD

LIMA—Funeral services were held yesterday at 2:30 p.m. for Mrs. Lillian Daner, 47, who died last night at the home of her sister in whom she was making a visit.

Services were held at the home of John Huebner, in Leipzig, where the body was received. Interment was in Sugar Ridge Cemetery.

Mrs. Daner was the widow of Oscar Johnson, who resided on N. Jackson-st. in Wayne-st., Lima, up to the time of having for Detroit to another brother, Ernest, in Washington, D.C. The body was laid to rest at the grave of her mother.

CINCINNATI WOMAN HURT IN WAPAKONETA ACCIDENT

WAPAKONETA—Mrs. Louisa Furlong, 49, of Cincinnati, was seriously injured shortly before noon Monday when a Ford sedan in which she and a companion were riding, ran against an old iron hitching rack at the corner of Mechanic and Willow-sts.

The upright bar at the end of the hitching bar snapped off as the automobile struck it, allowing the blunt end of the horizontal bar to plow its way thru the front of the car. It pierced the instrument board, and struck Mrs. Furlong's lap, tearing a hole thru her clothing and entering her left thigh.

It was necessary to move the car before she could be removed from the bar which had penetrated her body eight inches. She was carried to a physician's office where examination showed the pipe had not penetrated the abdominal cavity. It is thought she will recover unless complications arise.

The accident occurred when the Barkard firm were summoned to Washington in connection with the oil committee's study of transactions in the stock of the Sinclair Oil companies. Receipt of new and startling information is understood to have given rise to the developments which have resulted in the decision to subpoena them and hints have been flying thick and fast that names of present and former officials not heretofore mentioned might soon be brought into the oil inquiry.

CURIOSITY ENHANCED

Curiosity over today's executive session, called despite the ten day recess of the committee's inquiry and absence from the capital of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the leader in the investigation, has been enhanced by the sequence of events Sunday which preceded the summoning of the New York men. Senators Walsh and Wheeler had a conference with Wilson J. Lambert, counsel for Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, and later they met with Chairman Lenroot of the committee and Pomerene. Afterwards, Lenroot and Pomerene called at the White House.

The pistol battle was started late yesterday by Lee Wallace, 23, Franklin, Ind., and Rex Stacey, alias Harry Miller, 23, St. Louis, when they suddenly drew weapons, wounded four policemen who were guarding them, leaped from an automobile patrol as the machine approached police headquarters and darted away.

Police and detectives joined in pursuit. Flight of the gunmen was cut short by bullets from the pistol of Detective W. J. Diehl, who heard shots and saw the two men running in his direction.

Neither Wallace nor any of the policemen was wounded seriously. Hospital reports, however, were that Stacey's condition was critical.

COMMITTEE AGREES ON MINE WAGE SCALE PLAN

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The subcommittee of miners and operators of the central competitive field, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Western Pennsylvania, late yesterday compromised on renewal for three years of the present bituminous coal miners' scale. The miners had demanded a four-year agreement and the operators had insisted upon the customary one year contract.

The miners' policy committee will consider the contract today with indications that it will meet but little opposition. Meeting with favorable action there, the document then would be referred to the entire joint miners' operators' conference.

The opinion of most of the miners and operators is that the agreement will be formally signed and the conference ended before night.

"A Lost Hope and a Found Hope" was the subject of a talk made by Rev. Victor A. Smith, rector of Christ's Church, Episcopal, at the Lima Rescue Home Monday night. Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the U. B. church, will have charge of the evangelistic services at the Home Tuesday night.

CABINET AGAIN HIT BY SCANDAL

of heightened suspense today when the investigating committee went into conference behind closed doors with Harry Payne Whitney, New York financier, and officials of J. P. Barkard and Co., New York stock brokers. In addition the persistent demands for the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty were before today's cabinet meeting, and the preliminaries of the long battle in the courts over the oil leases were being prepared by the government's special counsel, Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, and Atlee Pomerene of Canton, Ohio, the senate having acted finally on both appointments.

Whitney and the members of the Barkard firm were summoned to Washington in connection with the oil committee's study of transactions in the stock of the Sinclair Oil companies. Receipt of new and startling information is understood to have given rise to the developments which have resulted in the decision to subpoena them and hints have been flying thick and fast that names of present and former officials not heretofore mentioned might soon be brought into the oil inquiry.

BEGAN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holles, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, the land of his birth. He is welcomed with Holland. He comes to lodge with Martha Quinn, because it is difficult for the colonel to secure a command in the English army because of the name of Randolph Holles. The colonel is on the warrant for the execution of King Charles I. A friend of the colonel asks Holles to enter a conspiracy against the government. A letter has been found for him. Holles tells the good news to Martha Quinn. Because Martha has fallen victim to the colonel's charms she feels keen disappointment when Holles receives an appointment. Butgates may not choose, ma'am. I go where I can find employment.

It is not bad as you imagine."

"But where's the need to go at all, when, as I've told you already, and a man as yourself should be thinking of settling down at home and taking a wife?"

She realized that the time had come to deliver battle. It was now or never. And thus she sent out a preliminary skirmishing party.

"Why, look at yourself," she ran on, before he could answer. "Look at the condition of you!" And she pointed a denunciatory finger at the hole in the heel of his right stocking. "You should be seeking a man to take care of you, instead of your hard run on soldiering for ign' parts."

"Ex'ell'n't advice," he laughed.

"There is one difficulty only. Who wants a wife with a jointure who hasn't got a wife without?"

You said something of the kind,"

she said. Again he laughed. "You know I could be hunting an heiress to the table, and leaned forward, forgetting something else. A woman well ensuredly many a man has had a wife with a jointure who

"You think of everything. Carry your good offices further and consider the rejection of this Indian office. But you'll need to make a position to offer

there's only a week left."

"It's not so easy as advising, is it?" he rallied her.

"It was serious I could soon find a comely enough woman of about your own age, miserable up to pounds and some property, besides."

"What then?"

He moved away from the table, and round to his side of it here he echoed:

"Now come two nearer so that she was almost beside him in the room," she insisted, softly.

and at her, still uncomprehending. Then, as he observed which she sought to dissemble her agitation, the truth was let out.

Her pipe snapped between his fingers, and he dived out of my pretense to remove his eyes from her face and out in which to consider how he should conduct himself in this increasing situation.

He pulled up his face was flushed, which may have been from the heat. He wanted to laugh; but he realized that it was unpardonable. He rose, and set the pieces of the table. Standing thus, his shoulder to her, he spoke but he was too embarrassed to mention of . . . of your meaning . . . And there was no one to encourage her. Again she came close.

"You know it, Colonel," she whispered.

"I don't know what to say."

He was striving to recover its functions. He understood at last his shabby exterior and obvious neediness should not stand in his way.

"Colonel, dear," she was purring. "Save me all notion of sailing to the Indies."

"My word is pledged already." It was a straw at which he could not bite. And it was not a very fortunate one, for it suggested that it was the only obstacle to bringing her closer. She was almost touching him, as he had invited and she actually leaned against him, and shoulder as she spoke, coaxingly, persuasively.

"I . . . before . . . before you knew of this. His grace

He . . . hold you to it. You've but to explain."

"But I couldn't," he cried weakly.

He looked at her.

But resolute. "Yes, me," she answered him. "If your or if he won't his Duchess will. I knew her well in

I was a young girl, and she was a sempstress glad to earn

He looked away again.

"Mrs. Quinn," he said, very gently. "The truth is . . .

He was coyly, and swept it briskly aside. "I'd take the you see I've lived this roving life of mine so long, I could ever settle. Besides, ma'am, what have I to do with my bargain, why take thought of that?"

"I am touched, deeply touched. I did not think I

What it moves me, it does not change my purpose. I am

CHAPTER X

Buckingham Disposes

He hummed softly to himself as he dressed with care to his appointment at the Cockpit.

During he had emptied the contents of his purse upon the floor, and made up his fortune. It amounted to thirty-five pounds and six pence. And Albemarle had promised him that, together with what he should receive on the morning of his return, he would meet his disbursements on equipment and the rest must be covered do credit to his patron.

He immediately after an early breakfast—at which, for once, he dined upon, not by Mrs. Quinn, but by Tim the drawer-boy, and made his way to Paternoster Row. There he paid a sum of red camlet laced with gold, and smallclothes, and a hat in keeping. By the time he added a pair of boots of gold, and a black silk sash, a new, gold-brocaded baldric, he had a trailing red plume, he found that full three-quarters of his slender fortune was dissipated, and there remained in his purse not above eight pounds.

He had turned them with his bundle to the Paul's Head, and, as he had now in his mirror, freshly shaved, his long thick gold-haired youth curled, and a clump of its curls caught in a ribbon of long pearl-shaped ruby glowing in his ear, his throat encir-led in a froth of lace, and the fine red coat that sat so ad-ably upon his shoulders, he smiled at the memory of the scarcerow he had seen lately as yesterday.

He created something of a sensation when he appeared below in all his finery, and, true, was unthinkable that he should tread the fifth floor of the Cockpit to Whitehall.

He waited an hour to noon, and this the Colonel considered the time when he could decently present himself. But early as it was it was, the Duke of Albemarle had been abroad and at the Cockpit even earlier.

He had sought the Duke of Albemarle a full hour before he had been ready to leave his lodgings.

LOOKS LIKE 50-50 PROPOSITION WITH COLLEGE TE

Big Ten Basketball Race With Teams Even. Race Tightest In Many Years

COLUMBUS — Its chances for a higher place in the Big Ten basketball sun obscured by the ominous shadow of the Wisconsin pine a week hence, Ohio State's cage quirkish roost make hay between now and next Saturday. At the time up to Monday showed five Conference games won and three lost, the Buckeyes still have a chance to finish well up among the leaders of the Big Ten pack before the end of the season.

Wisconsin is the only team on the 1924 Buckeye schedule whom the Ohioans have not met in an actual game. Two of the four remaining games are with the Badgers. Next Saturday's tilt here marks the first meeting of the two powers in the Big Ten since their last encounter on the 1923 floor.

Not in years has the question been so hard to answer in the Big Ten race, with the exception of 1922.

Ohio State has conducted its winter basketball relations with Indiana, return battles with Purdue and Illinois, the former two and the latter of Minneapolis, and the two Wisconsin games are all that remain for the Buckeyes.

Regardless of the result of the remaining four games, no football is definitely established as a successful sport at Ohio State. Coach Olson, in the opinion of Buckeye followers, has more than made good this winter on all the predictions that were made for him when he joined the Ohio coaching camp on March 1 with the regular curriculum set at 10 weeks.

OHIO STATE SOON THRU

A year ago two teams were not in front and three others were right behind it, but it is different this winter. With neither definitely in front, the winning percentage in excess of 73.67 shows that the percentage had for a number of years been steady. In the past three weeks, six have been sold and the present five or six top teams are scheduled for elimination at this time.

LOOKS LIKE DEMPSEY WOULD FIGHT GIBBONS

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Two of the big boxing shows of the summer may be definitely arranged this week.

The return bout proposed between Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, who gained the distinction of being the only man to remain the entire distance with the champion by bunting 15 rounds at Shelby, Mont., last summer, is on the program Tuesday for discussion between Tex Rickard and Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

Through his manager Eddie Kline, Gibbons already had agreed to terms for the bout. Kearns has given indications he was satisfied with Rickard's terms. The bout would be held in a new arena in the metropolitan district, probably in New York state, about June 1.

Notice has been served by Luis Angel Firpo, the South American heavyweight, that unless the syndicate which has proposed a match between him and Harry Wills, the Negro contender, deposited $50,000 in a Buenos Aires bank to his credit this week he will consider the negotiations ended.

PIN SPILLERS FAIL TO SHATTER ANY RECORDS

CLEVELAND — With the exception of two teams from Akron, bowlers from Port Clinton and Cleveland had the alleys to themselves in Tuesday's competition in the Ohio State Bowling Association tournament here. Six other cities however will be represented tonight when the five-man teams get into action.

These men will be confronted with the same leading scores which bowlers from Cincinnati, Port Clinton, Ashtabula, Akron and Titusville were unable to equal yesterday. Not a change was recorded and but for the rolling of Efrid of Cleveland whose 289 in the singles gave him the high game record for the tournament, yesterday's competition was practically devoid of features.

Five-man teams from Cincinnati, Wooster, Alliance, Canton, Toledo and Cleveland with the latter in the majority, will bowl tonight.

WAPAKONETA — The first pin spilling of the year was held at the YMCA building Monday night. The first intense match staged to under the auspices of the cold water House, Steve Pritchett, Bowlers, took a 14 count from the Hickory Nuts in the "quarterfinal" game by scoring 321 against 308, then those from Walnuts moved out the Battlement in the final game, 315 to 305. The Walnuts'沉着 game plan of Alan Steele was the key to their victory, as he was the best pitcher in the tournament, according to the judges.

The game was the first round robin, featuring a faster and harder fought game.

Lynch Quits the Sticks

Joe Lynch, who started out as a barnstorming boy, working in odd-game contests, jumped with Jack Dempsey last year. He got his fill of one-night stands. CHICAGO — Ed "Strangler" Lynch recently went to manager Lewis, movie Starlighters, Chicago, to call all boys off and took the next short pleasure trip. Lewis has met him for New York.

LEONARD, LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION TELLS SARAZEN HOW TO WIN HIS MATCH

"All you gotta do is wait for an opening and then shoot over a good left hook and then you can go home."

It was Benny Leonard telling Gene Sarazen how to win his match from Arthur Hayes, the British golf champion.

Benny scolded Sarazen in the recent match in the country. Arthur Hayes claimed he scolded him. What he really did was to advise the home.

"I got my little phrases mixed up with my golfing," said the lightweight champion, "but what o'm, WE won O'Rourke didn't WE?"

St. Rose Out To Win Caging Tourney

With a victory over LaFayette one of the strongest quartets in the nation, safely tucked away in their record, the St. Rose basket-tossers begin a week of hard drill in preparation for the class B tournament to be held at Central Friday. Coach Young expects to perfect the old plays rather than add new ones at this late stage. The whole squad is in wonderful form to continue their splendid record. "Puffy" McNamara is back in shape after several weeks on the beach. Bill Willis adds to completely headed and every sign points to a continuation of the speed shown all season.

The Rosearians are the only Lima team in the tourney but they are well qualified to uphold the honor of the city. Rose will be the host with three losses and winning the third and White City will meet the winner of the Beaverville-Ridgeway tilt.

The St. Rose senior will probably start J. Christian and Willis at forward, V. Christian center, and Campbell and Brede guard.

Panama Champ Coming

John Lombardo, 140-poundweight champion of Panama, who claimed victory in his bout with 124-pounder Lombardo used to be a bantam.

NOW YORK — Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, confirmed report that Gibbons was matched to meet Jack Dempsey next summer.

Clci Coming Champ?

Tommy McNamara was the original name of Eddie Kane, Boston. This year Eddie predicted the little Texan would be the next open champion and he was. Now McNamara is again the darling thing about the class and was held almost even through the ten rounds by the road to victory.

CHICAGO — Jack Mapes, St. Paul middleweight, was offered $12,500 and expenses from a syndicate of three Chinese, another central bid.

John Martin, British middleweight, was offered $12,500 and expenses from a syndicate of three Chinese, another central bid.

Majestic—"Tess of the Storm Country" with Mary Pickford.

Orpheum—"The Merrymakers."

Faurot—Dark.

(By CABIE)

It was a diversified program that the Swedish Ballet presented at the Faurot opera house, Monday night; dances touching on folk songs of several European countries which have distinctive style, and in every instance exceptionally well done. It seems to have been the intention of the creator of these dances to touch more upon the plain, simple things in this particular ballet, that were easiest of interpretation, by the audience, and to leave out the spectacular—Salome, and the rest of the semi-sensual groups, which so often mar the decent sense of a refined audience such as saw the presentation Monday night. There is no use of denying the fact, because it is a fact, that the intricacies of ballet dancing, must be acquired to be thoroly appreciated—a good deal like the habit for olives; delicious if you like them, and taken with a distorted face if you don't.

If it is true that M. Jean Borlin, and there is no reason to doubt it, did devise and arrange each of the numbers, let him be set down as a master in stage art of this nature; and besides this he is highly accomplished artist in the bargain. In selecting not a single composition except from the master composers, there was music in concurrent expression with the dancing, that could not be improved upon. As a matter of fact the orchestra, under the able direction of Vladimir Golschmann played divinely, touching Bigot, Grieg, Berioz, Saint Saens with equal aptitude and skill.

I was greatly impressed by Mlle Ethel Strandid, a young and beautiful dancer, touching as she did a repertory which could only have been done satisfactorily except by one so highly gifted. She achieves artistic results without startling the breadth of imagination, while her emotion and decorative features stand out in bold relief.

The color scheme of the middle part of the program was beautiful, and I might say here in the very latest manner of stage lighting. The blending of colors, subdued, rich and splendid, framed the costume of the young men and women dancers in a sea of imaginative coloring. It was here that Mlle Strandid did her Gypsy dance, and of all she did, it impressed me most. It was poetic, dreamy; beautiful in the extreme.

The Swedish Ballet made good every promise. It is an organization meritorious in every particular.

JUMPS TO DEATH

NEW YORK — J. S. Busky, 78, a many years proprietor of a tobacco store, jumped to his death over the floor of a Lexington hotel today. He left a note for his son with whom he lived in Brooklyn.

This is the latest givern Audie Tracy to the John Hall & Son, Cleveland contractors. The cost is divided between the founders at $60,000 and the building is open at $342,000.

As the state legislature has appropriated $1 million for the construction of an office building, it is believed the McLaughlin plan may be adopted.

THE biggest program of entertainment presented thus far this season at the New Orpheum theater will be given at the 7:30 performance at that playhouse Wednesday night. It will combine three separate and distinct shows into one. First and foremost will be Orth and Coleman's "Tip Top Merrymakers," in the musical comedy revue, "Joy and Gloom," with a cast of 25. Then will come one of the most interesting "Chorus Girls' Gift Night" of the season. Third but not least will be the scenic and novelty spectacle, "The Evolution of the Dance," tracing the development of tarsichore from the dawn of history to the time of modern jazz. There will be a complete change of programs at the matinees Thursday, for the last half of the week. The "Merrymakers" opened a week's engagement at the New Orpheum, Sunday.

Welsh Singers

GREATNESS means hard work or genius, tho the latter is only another way of describing the capacity for hard work. The success of the Rhondda Male Choir means both and no one need run away with the idea that a Welshman has only to open his mouth and sing by virtue of his nationality.

These men feel keenly what they sing, and if there is a secret of their success—well, then, it is that inborn Celtic temperament that enters in every word and sound they utter or sing. They will appear at Memorial Hall on the evening of March 5, under the auspices of the Lion's Club.

"The Monster"

THE Monster will give two performances at the Faurot Wednesday. This is one of those mystery plays, the kind New York and Chicago have taken so kindly to. It will be presented here with Crane Wilber the individual responsible for the play, in the leading role and Suzanne Caulet, a niece of the late Sarah Bernhardt, in the cast. It comes with the stamp of merit and success written all over it. It is said to be spooky and at the same time dramatic.

McMILLAN FUNERAL

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence Wednesday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Mary McMullan, wife of Thomas McMullan, of 209 S. Baxter-st. Rev. C. A. Rowand will officiate. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

This is the latest givern Audie Tracy to the John Hall & Son, Cleveland contractors. The cost is divided between the founders at $60,000 and the building is open at $342,000.

As the state legislature has appropriated $1 million for the construction of an office building, it is believed the McLaughlin plan may be adopted.
